It's like a job fair, but for businesses! Michigan Small Business Development Center (SBDC) is bringing 60+ support organizations together, all in one place, to provide you resources to start or scale your business!

At this open house styled event, you can engage with over 40 business support organizations and 20+ financial institutions. These organizations can assist with funding options, market research, business planning, networking, sales and marketing, social media, business certifications, contracting opportunities, and energy assessments, and much more. Their goal is to help you get direct access to the people you need to know to be successful!
